

REMIT Phase 2 Reporting

Meet the challenge of REMIT Phase 2 EU regulation with Complete.

INTRODUCTION

Trayport Complete has allowed many market participants to successfully meet the first phase of the REMIT reporting requirements which commenced on 7 October, 2015. From this date Market Participants were obliged to ensure timely and accurate reporting of standard physical power and gas orders and transactions (or events) no later than T+1.

We are now less than two months away from the start of REMIT Phase 2, on April 7th. From this date market participants in the European wholesale gas and power markets will need to report the details of all contracts and trades that are not traded on an Organised Market Place (OMP) to ACER, via a Registered Reporting Mechanism (RRM). Non-standard trades are defined as contracts with no defined quantity and price and/or executed under non-standard contracts. They typically include structured contracts, power purchase agreements or transactions between divisions.
